Composite Description

The Dividend Growth Composite (the "Composite") is comprised of growth equity accounts which invest primarily in companies with consistent earnings growth profiles which, as a portfolio, have a dividend yield above the S&P 500 Index yield and with each stock evaluated as having the potential to increase dividends. The Composite's investment objective is to provide an attractive total return comprised of both dividends and long-term capital appreciation. The Composite is made up of all eligible discretionary, fee paying, dividend growth separately managed accounts. The Composite was created in November 2010. Prior to April 1, 2016, the Dividend Growth Composite was known as the ORI Rising Dividend Composite.

Calculation of Performance Returns

Composite results are calculated using a time-weighted total rate-of-return formula and are U.S. dollar-based. The composite returns are asset-weighted based upon beginning period market values. Returns include dividends net of withholding taxes if applicable, interest, realized and unrealized gains or losses. The "net of fees" performance results reflect the deduction of wrap fees or fees in lieu of commissions on wrap-fee accounts and advisory fees and trading commissions paid by non wrap-fee separately managed accounts in the Composite since inception. Account performance is based on total assets in the account, including cash and cash equivalents. Historical performance results include the results of accounts which are no longer managed by the Firm. The composite returns presented represent past performance, which is not a reliable indicator of future results, which may vary.

Fee Schedule

The Composite includes wrap-fee and non wrap-fee separately managed accounts. Wrap-fee accounts are charged an all-inclusive asset-based fee that includes most costs. Wrap fees, including advisory fees, vary across brokerage firms and accounts based upon account size and other factors, however, they generally do not exceed 3% per annum. Published Oak Ridge investment advisory fee rates can be found in the Firm's Form ADV Part 2A Brochure, which is available upon request.

Benchmark Information

The S&P 500 Index is a capitalization-weighted, broad based index which covers 500 companies in the U. S. equity markets. The Composite will differ significantly in terms of holdings, industry weightings, and asset allocation from these indices. Returns and volatility of the Composite may differ from these indices. The returns for any index include the reinvestment of dividends or interest. Indices shown are unmanaged and are not subject to fees and expenses typically associated with investment vehicles/accounts.

Other Disclosures

The information presented is for the separately managed portfolios of the Composite and is for illustrative purposes only. Actual account holdings will vary by account depending, among other reasons, on the size of an account, cash flows and cash levels within an account, restrictions on an account and the timing of purchases or sales for an account. The information in this document does not represent a recommendation to buy, hold or sell securities. Investment in securities entails risks, which may include but are not limited to equity portfolios being subject to the basic stock market risk that a particular security, or securities in general, may decrease in value and the stocks of small and medium-sized companies are often associated with higher risk than stocks of larger companies, including higher volatility. Investment advisory programs may require a minimum asset level and, depending on an investor's specific investment objectives and financial position, may not be suitable for all investors. Please consider the investment objectives, risk, charges, and expenses of the program carefully before investing. Oak Ridge Investments' Form ADV contains this and other important information about separately managed accounts managed by Oak Ridge Investments, LLC. Please read the Form ADV carefully before investing.
